MEAD LORE

- 1.) "Beware! Beware!
His flashing eyes, his floating hair!
Weave a circle round him thrice,
And close your eyes with holy dread,
For he on honey-dew hath fed,
And drunk the milk of Paradise."
-Kubla Khan
Samuel Taylor Coleridge, 1798
- 2.) The English word Medicine is descended from the Welsh word Meddyglyn, meaning mead made with herbs. The Welsh word was later Anglicized as Methyglyn, with a variety of spellings.
- 3.) Odin, father of the Norse gods, traded his eye for a drink of the mead of wisdom.
- 4.) Odin's Daughters, the beautiful Valkyrie, serve mead to fallen heroes in Valhalla.
- 5.) Drank of the mead seven bumpers; his spirits rose, (and), exultant, Glad was his heart, and cheerful his face"
- Epic of Gilgamesh
- 6.) "Of honey let the forest smell, the blue backwoods—of mead, of melted butter"
-Magic Songs of the West Finns, Vol. 2
John Abercromby, [1898]
- 7.) "O Edain, wilt thou come with me
To a wonderful palace that is mine?
White are the teeth there, and black the brows,
And crimson as the mead are the lips of the lovers."
-Ancient Legends, Mystic Charms, and Superstitions of Ireland
Lady Francesca Speranza Wilde, [1887]
